PLANNING 2027

Demand from your authors keeps growing.

Rheinfeld published 17% more with Lumen in 2026. At this rate, expect around 162 articles in 2027

METHOD & DATA

Every figure comes from Manuscripta invoices and editorial records – no manual edits by Lumen.

– about EUR 336,960 at your current terms. Topping up the prepayment account early keeps the budget predictable.

METHOD SHEET · V1.2 · UNIVERSITY OF RHEINFELD

How we calculate every figure

Period 1 Jan – 31 Dec 2026. All figures are generated automatically from Manuscripta. Nobody at Lumen edits them by hand.

Method sheet (PDF) | Raw data (CSV)

Savings	List price APC minus price paid, summed over all articles	Manuscripta invoices	`338,100 − 287,040`	EUR 51,060
Cost per article	Total paid divided by articles published	Manuscripta invoices	`287,040 ÷ 138`	EUR 2,080
Funder requirements met	Articles whose funder OA rules are fully met, divided by all articles	Funder data at submission, funder policies	`128 ÷ 138`	93%
OA strategy / CC BY	Articles published open access under CC BY, divided by all articles	Manuscripta licence data	`138 ÷ 138`	100%
Open data	Articles with a data availability statement and a repository link, divided by all articles	Manuscripta metadata	`80 ÷ 138`	58%
Reviewers & editors	Distinct Rheinfeld-affiliated people with at least one review or editorial role in 2026	Lumen editorial system	`count, deduplicated`	27

List price

The public APC of the journal on the day of acceptance, as published on the journal page. Without the agreement, this is what Rheinfeld authors would have paid.

What is not on the slide

Citations and Altmetric scores. They are in the raw data for anyone who wants them, but the slide shows only what the renewal decision rests on.

Names and consent

Reviewers and editors appear by name only if they agreed. Everyone else is counted, not named.
